

How to reach Rimini

Rimini is easily reachable by car, train or airplane

Airports

Rimini –5 km far from the center of the city, the airport "Federico Fellini" is in continuous expansion with international and national connections. Connection with Mosca, Tirana and other important cities. For further information please visit the web site www.riminiairport.com. The airport is connected to the city center by a bus service every 15 minutes.

Bologna – 100 km far from Rimini, the Bologna airport "Guglielmo Marconi" is the third international airport of Italy, connected daily with european and international destinations. A shuttle service connects the airport to the railway station. There are about 50 daily trains which connect Bologna to Rimini.

Ancona – 90 km far from Rimini, the Ancona airport is daily connected with London and other destination in Italy and abroad.

How to reach Rimini

Car: Rimini is situated along the highway A14, which connects in north direction with Bologna and Milan and in south direction with Bari. The motorway exits are two: North Rimini, South Rimini. Easily reachable the links for the A4 toward Venice, the A22 toward the Brennero and the A1 for Florence, Rome and Naples.

Train: the connection with the leading Italian cities is frequent and rapid. With Eurostar and Intercity, the distances are covered in a few hours, 3 hours from Milan, 4 from Rome, 2 from Florence and 1 from Bologna.

Regional transports

. 8 extraurbans lines connect Rimini and the other coastal cities with the Republic of San Marino and the countries of the hinterland

City bus

Local public transports starting from ticket euro 1,20 per way

